The North Carolina Department of Transportation (NCDOT) will hold three Citizens Informational Workshops for the U.S. 401 Corridor Study (TIP Project R-2609) in July. These workshops will be held on July 21, 25 and 28 between the hours of 4p.m. and 7p.m. at the following locations:

- Thursday, July 21 at the Harnett County Government Complex – Commons Area, located at 309 W. Cornelius Harnett Boulevard in Lillington.
- Monday, July 25 at the Fuquay-Varina Community Center – Multi-Purpose Room, located at 820 South Main Street in Fuquay-Varina
- Thursday, July 28 at the Raleigh Road Elementary School - Cafeteria, located off U.S. 401 at 8330 Ramsey Street in Linden.

Interested individuals may attend any of these informal workshops any time during the above hours. The same information will be presented at all three workshops. Please note there will not be a formal presentation.

The purpose of these workshops is for NCDOT representatives to provide information, answer questions and accept written comments regarding this study. NCDOT is currently conducting a study of the U.S. 401 corridor from the existing multi-lanes north of Fayetteville in Cumberland County to north of Fuquay-Varina in Wake County. The project is approximately 39 miles in length. Improvements to the existing road, as well as constructing bypasses of Lillington and Fuquay-Varina on new locations, are being considered as alternatives.

Anyone desiring additional information may contact John E. Richards, NCDOT Project Development and Environmental Analysis Branch, at 1548 Mail Service Center, Raleigh, NC 27699-1548, by phone at (919) 707-6040, or via email at jerichards@ncdot.gov.

NCDOT will provide auxiliary aids and services under the Americans with Disabilities Act for disabled persons who want to participate in this workshop. Anyone requiring special services should contact Richards as soon as possible so that arrangements can be made.
